Documentary;

The maritime industry is constantly changing. Innovative developments and news can be spread in different ways through the social media environment. The making of a documentary can be very effective. A documentary is a brief overview of an event or activity based on interviews with the main stakeholders. Do you want to market your new product or service better than the usual press release message? Then a documentary is the ideal instrument for informative advertising purposes.

Training and instruction videos;

MVP productions creates all kinds of instructional films to explain the use of a variety of machines, devices or services and products in the maritime industry. We can inform you about the different possibilities of this interactive media.

To name a few benefits of training and instruction videos

- Movies are more evident for workers! Hence they are very effective.
- Auxiliary instrument for management! Which means quick and easy preparation.
- All films are short and sweet! Thus limiting the cost and duration of consultations.

The video pitch

A video elevator pitch or simply "pitch" is a one minute video message from a business contact in which you tell what kind of work you do as an entrepreneur, or want to do, and in which sector you are experienced. You sell your strengths here.

The purpose of your pitch is that the person you're talking to can assess whether he could ask you for that particular job. Sometimes the goal is more general, others can assess whether you may be useful in their network. It can also be used in other ways, such as finding staff, giving a brief product information or to speak to your targeted audience.
